RALPH BRADLEY, '39, graduated from Moffet field this fall and is now enrolled in advanced training at Luke field, Ariz., where he will receive his commission in January.

Don Band Marches For Signal Honors

Competing for signal honors as a marching unit with 13 other county high school and college musical organizations, the jaysee band will march tomorrow evening in the first Huntington Beach Santa Claus parade, according to Bandmaster Alan A. Revill.

Accompanying the band will be three prize seeking majorettes, Virginia Pollard, Betty Haynes, Ruth Howell, who strutted their way to fame in the Fullerton Armistice day parade. Bands will be judged for prizes according to their formations and marching skill.

The 23-piece marching unit has been rehearsing special marching formations all this week, preparatory to entering the contest.

Columbia Rates English Courses

Jaysee's English department gained national recognition today in the field of comparative literature when Columbia university of New York city released a list of representative courses and cited the first and second semester offerings of Survey of World Literature as outstanding in the junior college field.

The Santa Ana course was selected by the university committee from among the catalogs of more than 600 institutions according to Instructor T. H. Glenn.

Purpose of the study is to determine how the field of comparative literature might be more systematically correlated with the program of inter-cultural relations now sponsored by the United States department of state the announcement stated.

Magazine Publishes Rohfleisch Article

Kramer Rohfleisch jaysee social science instructor, today announced that the Junior College Journal, publication of the American Association of Junior college, published an article by him in the November issue. The article is entitled "A Danger in the Terminal Program."

The article discusses the question of whether or not the junior colleges should become terminal schools specializing in vocational training and forget entirely the academic curriculum which prepares students for upper division university work.

Mr. Rohfleisch points out that this difficulty might be solved by striking a working balance between the cultural and vocational program and training students for both fields.

Another article by Mr. Rohfleisch appeared earlier this year in the August issue of Yachting magazine entitled "North to the Golden Gate." This article described a trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco made by Mr. Rohfleisch and friend in a 30 foot ketch.

BOOSTER BODY LAUNCHES NEW BUILDING CAMPAIGN

Registration Counsel Offered Freshman Students This Year

Freshmen students are now meeting with their advisers for the purpose of planning individual courses of study, not only for next semester, but for their sophomore years as well, Director H. J. Sheffield, of jaysee's counseling service, announced today.

A part of the new counseling program inaugurated this year, students are assisted in planning programs that will conform with their vocational choices, grades, interests, and state of health. Freshmen advisers are Miss Genevieve Humiston, Miss Agness Todd Miller, Kramer J. Rohfleisch, Orville Knutsen, and H. O. Russell.

"We feel that the new system is progressing satisfactorily. We hope to aid as many students as possible in all problems of vocational guidance," Mr. Sheffield stated.

Graduate's Drawings On Exhibit Soon

Scheduled for display in the art department next week is an exhibit of oil and water color paintings done by Roger Fuller, '37, and Edward Henseltdt from Chouinard Art school.

Fuller attended Chouinard at Los Angeles after graduation from jaysee, and is now engaged in advertising art work for a Los Angeles department store.

Glenn To Replace McCoy Next Term

T. H. Glenn, head of jaysee's English department, will replace Journalism Director John H. McCoy, during the balance of the year, it was announced today by Director D. K. Hammond. Mr. McCoy will leave in two weeks for Ohio State university to serve as a visiting member of the journalism faculty there.

Some of the journalism courses now offered will be discontinued for the semester.

Next March Mr. McCoy has been asked to speak on "The Progress of Journalism in California Junior Colleges" at the eighteenth annual conference of the Columbia Scholastic Press association in New York City, Dean Hammond said. The conference is to be held at Columbia university in connection with the journalism school there. It is to be held during the time of spring vacation.

Give Membership To President Was

Denying reports that a stalemate has been reached in the drive for a new jaysee plant here, President Earl Vinson of the Santa Ana Junior chamber of commerce declared today that the booster body is contemplating immediate action on the proposed drive.

"A special committee appointed to supervise the drive will submit a potential plan for a new junior college campaign at the meeting of the junior chamber executive board Tuesday, and it is almost certain that action will begin soon after that," Mr. Vinson asserted.

BULLETIN

Bill Was, president of the Associated Students, received formal notification this morning that he has been accepted as an honorary member of the Junior chamber of commerce for the duration of his term of office.

The committee, composed of three members, includes Dale Deckert, chairman, John Sylvester and Worth Babbitt.

"We believe the majority of the people in Santa Ana are in favor of a new jaysee plant," Mr. Vinson said. "With popular opinion behind us we hope to eliminate some of the obstacles that remain in the path of building one."

At the same time the booster president announced that Santa Ana Junior college has been given permanent honorary representation in the junior chamber. Each Associated Student President will be elected to honorary membership for his term of office. As a result of that action, Bill Was will be the first student executive so honored.

Players To Get Awards At Football Banquet

For the first time in the history of Santa Ana Junior college, every member of the 1941 championship squad will receive engraved gold footballs at the annual football banquet next Thursday night.

Coach Bill Cook, who will make the awards, said today, that due to the fact that this year's championship team is the smallest jaysee has had in several years, practically all the players have participated in conference games.

The dinner, which begins at 6:30 p.m. will be held at the Masonic Temple on North Sycamore. Speaker for the evening will be Earl Merritt, coach at Pomona college.

Decorations are being planned by the WAA under the direction of Miss Zena Leck and music will be furnished by David Craighead, pianist, and Robert Larsen, baritone, of the music department.

Tickets for the event are 50 cents for students and a dollar for the general public.

Santa Ana Chapter Entertains Society

Plans were completed today for the annual fall convention of Delta Psi Omega, honorary drama society, which will be held here tomorrow, jointly sponsored by the Santa Ana and Fullerton chapters of the club. Drama Instructor Ernest Crozier Phillips, stated.

Main event of the convention will be the presentation of one-act plays by the Santa Ana and Fullerton groups. The local jaysee will be represented by "The Same Old Thing."

Registration at 1 p.m. will start the convention. A business meeting at 2 o'clock will follow and Harry R. Lubcke of the Don Lee Broadcasting company will speak on television at 3 p.m. to which the public is invited. Drama students will give short talks on the subject "What Drama Instruction Means to Me" at 4 o'clock. Dancing at 5 o'clock will be followed by dinner at 6 p.m. The plays will be given at 7:30 and will conclude the convention program.

High School Presents Three-act Comedy

"Tish," a three-act comedy by Alice Chadwick, will be presented tonight in the high school auditorium at 8:30 p.m. by the high school Drama club under the direction of Miss Doris Burke.

Beryl Sell will portray the title role of Tish, and Gloria Golden and Doris Luke will take the parts of Aggie and Lizzie, respectively. Admission is 40 cents.

Christmas Dance Set For Dec. 19

Social Commissioner Darlene Sherfey is today making plans for the annual Christmas dance set for Dec. 19 which will again unite junior college alumni and Associated Students.

Huntington Beach Memorial hall has been selected as the scene of the affair with Orson Reynard's orchestra to furnish the music from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Theme for the decorations will be carried out in the holiday season and guest of honor for the event will be Santa Claus who will present a Christmas gift to all present.

Sponsors of the affair are the Associated Students who have set the price of tickets at $1 per couple.

Art Society Shows Greeting Cards

Samples of Christmas cards designed for the annual sale by members of the Alpha Rho Tau, art society, will be displayed the latter part of next week in the showcase, it was learned today from Miss Frances Egge, adviser.

According to Miss Egge, the proceeds from the sales have been used to purchase various articles for the art studio and in recent years a punch bowl for use at jaysee social functions was acquired. The Christmas cards will again be offered this year at a reasonable rate.

FORMER DONS IN NEWS SPOTLIGHT BOTH ON AND OFF JUNIOR COLLEGE CAMPUS

HERE'S THE SQUAD that set the example for this year's Eastern conference champs. The husky grid-men shown above were all members of the famous 1940 Don team that ended an undefeated season as the nation's mythical champions. Only a few of the men on that powerhouse remained to lead the team to its second consecutive conference title this year.

FROM TINY PIPER CUB TRAINERS to high-powered Army training planes—that's the thumbnail sketch of many of jaysee's Civilian Pilot Training graduates, according to Flight Instructor H. O. Russell, who discloses that a great number of local trainees have joined some division of the nation's military aerial forces. The cubs used here are shown above, flying in close formation. The far flung formation of army planes shown below contain aerial cadets in training at Randolph Field, Texas. The jaysee trainers boast 55-horsepower; the larger planes, 450 horsepower.

White House of Philippines

FROM THIS MALACANAN palace in Manila come the executive orders that govern the course of the all-important Philippine Island government. It is the residence of Manuel Quezon, first president of the commonwealth. Frank Murphy, the last governor-general of the islands, formerly occupied the mansion. Military eyes are currently focused on this crucial point in world affairs, and with the Japanese moving in Pacific waters, the U.S. fleet is sticking close by the Philippines to forestall any surprise move.

Joins Ohio State Faculty

LEAVING SANTA ANA JUNIOR COLLEGE for one semester, John H. McCoy, assistant director and head of public relations, will journey to Ohio State university at Columbus, Ohio, during Christmas vacation. The jaysee journalism instructor was granted sabbatical leave to serve on the university faculty for two quarters, January to June. Some of the journalism classes will be disbanded during Mr. McCoy's absence, and others will be taken over by English Head T. H. Glenn for the remainder of the year. The journalism director will resume his duties here next fall.

Drastic Decrease Anticipated In Collegiate NYA Rolls

Funds Cut Twice In Current Year

Semi-official reports from the state board of the National Youth Administration today indicated that jaysee NYA rolls for the second semester may undergo another drastic cut when the second semester appropriation is announced.

Although no definite word was received as to the nature of the cut, Calvin C. Flint, dean of men, and director of funds for this college, announced that he was notified not to add any new assignments during the period from Nov. 21 to Jan. 31.

DETAILS FORTHCOMING

More complete details of the impending decrease in student relief will be forthcoming from the national bureau in Washington, D. C. in the near future, Mr. Flint said. In the meantime, only students whose names have appeared on time reports prior to Nov. 21 may be paid for services under NYA jurisdiction.

The drastic decrease will be the second the rolls have suffered for the current scholastic year. A one-third cut at the first of the year subtracted approximately $3500 from the $10,000 appropriation, and the new one may take from 25 to 50 per cent of the remaining allotment, it was disclosed.

DEFENSE RESPONSIBLE

Increasing demands of national defense were supposed by local officials to be directly responsible for the forecasted action. Also, a large increase in employment throughout the country, plus a decided decrease in college enrollment may have a large part to do with it.

Approximately $700 is currently being expended monthly in student assignments.

MOST ARDENT DON fan is Tom Salisbury, Los Angeles business man, who has followed the rise and fall of jaysee grid fortunes for the past six years. He has become as much a part of the Friday night tussles as the sight of Coach Bill Cook stalking along the sidelines. (Cut courtesy Independent)

Football Prospects Bright For 1942

Although ten regulars will be missing from the roll call next September, Coach Bill Cook today described the chances of another good squad as about the best he has seen in several years.

Despite the loss of over half the first string on the 1941 Eastern conference champions, hopes were high as Cook looked over the remaining material from which to draw next season's team.

Missing from the Don lineup will be such regulars as LeRoy Littlejohn, Homer Hannaford, Bill Was, Joe Margucci, Pruney Parsons, Whitey Rogge, Erism Jamison, Tony Podobnik, James Kobayashi, and Howard McMillan.

Standouts in remaining strength are the end positions, what with Paul Cleary, Milt Smith, Ev Winkler, and Oliver Fletcher returning. The guard position still leaves Christofferson and Murphy, and centers Newquist and Chandler.

Jaysee Quintet Opens '42 Season

Public Likes Team Spirit and Fight

In an effort to get a cross-section of public opinion on the 1941 Don football machine, El Don reporters interviewed several fans as they were leaving the Fullerton-Cookmen turkey day battle. Most of the fans interviewed declared that although this season's outfit didn't pack the wallop of the '40 national champions, they were still strong enough to give any jaysee in the nation a tough battle.

Following are the individual opinions:

Warren Kiser—It was a great squad and Joe Margucci is one of the best backs in the conference.

C. C. Crew—After seeing how the Dons held Fullerton at the edge of the goal line, I can understand why they won the conference crown.

Mrs. Eula Pannell—I was very much impressed by the Dons and the cooperation they had with a fine line and great backs.

Mrs. Alton Fish—The Dons are a real team. I didn't miss a game for fear that they would play even better than they had in the preceding game.

Jack Stinson, Newport—I think the Dons far outclassed any other junior college team in the conference. They had plenty of power and finesse, and know when to use it. I think that they compare favorably with last year's team. What they lack in weight and material they make up in team spirit and fight.

Carl White—There is no doubt that the Dons are one of the top junior college teams in the country. They deserve plenty of credit, and so does Bill Cook. I hope that next year's team goes on where this year's great squad left off.

J. Schultz—I've been used to seeing Bill Cook turn out good teams, and this season's squad was no exception. They were one of the best teams that Bill Cook turned out and they have outplayed every opponent that they have met. I think that if they were to play Pasadena again they would beat them by two touchdowns. I'm looking forward to another great team next year.

Jim Crowther—The '41 squad lacks the power and weight of last year's team, but they have the same fighting spirit. People are inclined to misjudge them because they compare their performance with that of the '40 champs, and that is asking too much. It is a great team and deserves a lot of credit.

PRIZE AWARD FOR 1941 grid prognostication should go to San Bernardino for its accurate forecast of the Dons winning the conference crown. The above signs were plastered over the Don campus by Indian students in a nocturnal raid early in the season. Remember the night, Secret Seven? (Cut courtesy the Register)

"Don of the Week" Bronze Keys Possessed by 11 Grid Winners

Indicative of their prowess in the 1941 grid wars, 11 Don moleskinners are now proud possessors of bronze keys inscribed "Don of the Week." Chosen by popular vote following each pigskin encounter, the players were given the keys by Vandermaast Inc., sponsors of the event.

The honored gridsters were nominated on the basis of their outstanding and valuable performance, and during the week following their selection, their photographs were displayed in the show windows of the local store.

LITTLEJOHN WINS

First winner of the coveted award was center LeRoy Littlejohn who was instrumental in the Don victory over La Verne by his sterling play in backing up the line. It was this game that tabbed Littlejohn as a strong contender for conference grid honors.

The Dons' great quarterback, Joe Margucci, nabbed the award the following week when he ran and passed the Santa Monica Corsairs into the ground. Third player to win the honor was Bill Gulley who shone even in the gloom of the Pasadena defeat.

PAGE HONORED

"Chuck" Page received the award the next week when the team journeyed north to rout the Sacramento Athletic club. Page was outstanding throughout the year, but in this game he rose to the height of grid glory.

In the conference opener against San Bernardino, the Scarlet and Black's elusive broken field runner "Pruney" Parsons ran wild against the Indians and was chosen the outstanding Don. Homer Hannaford then entered the selected ranks following his line play in the Loyola Frosh game.

ROGGE FIRST

In the Dons' close win over Riverside, "Whitey" Rogge was given the honor and Ev Winkler got the award for his pass catching ability against March Field the following Friday night.

POINT BLANK

By GUS LUZANIA

Once again the annual drama of Fullerton vs. the Eastern conference has terminated on a sour note. The Hornets are still dissatisfied as ever and the last meeting of conference officials threw no light on troubled waters. As long as Fullerton maintains its well-known attitude toward the "purity" code and Chaffey displays its dislike for the Yellowjackets, the conference will go on having its yearly fits and convulsions. A disgruntled conference member who is forced to remain in the league only because of force is not going to help matters any.

Former Dons Ray Bishop, John Osterman, and Don Schmock won honorable mention in the All-Conference rating in the Southern California conference. All three gridsters were nominees in "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's Occidental varsity. Bishop and Osterman were members of the Don teams of '39-'40, while Schmock was a Cookman in '38-'39.

Overcoming an early lead set by fullback "Pruney" Parsons, co-captain Joe Margucci won the 1 Don scoring parade in tallying 9 points. Parsons made a total of 18 points and might have made more if injuries hadn't kept him out of several games. Two first-year men, Ev Winkler and Chuck Page, tied for third spot in scoring 12 points each.

Of all the colleges in the Eastern conference, Santa Ana has the longest football schedule. This year the Cookmen met 11 opponents. Fullerton, Riverside, and San Bernardino played nine teams, while Chaffey and Pomona took the field eight times.

Associated Students Disfavor Proselyting

Think Subsidizing Cheapens Sport

Whether or not the Eastern conference purity pact remains in effect will not make a lot of difference on the Don campus, if a recent poll gives any indication of student sentiment.

El Don reporters queried 184 men and women this week on the subject of proselyting football players. The results tabulated this morning show campus sentiment faintly against subsidization of Don gridgers.

SLIGHT EDGE

A total of 93 voted against the practice as compared to 91 in favor of it.

The ballot followed, in effect, the results of a similar poll conducted recently by the Los Angeles Times. In querying the Angelenos on the topic, Times interviewers found that the opposition to the practice is much stronger among the Angelenos than was found here.

PRO AND CON

More than 58 per cent of the urbanities expressed opposition to the already outlawed practice of paying college players. Just 41.5 per cent indicated that they were in favor of it.

Popular opinion expressed on the campus attacks the commercial method of attracting football players as reducing the men to third rate professionals.

Santa Ana Defeats Conference Foes To Retain Pigskin Crown

Rolling through its '41 conference schedule untied and undefeated, the Santa Ana Dons have cornered their second consecutive Eastern conference pigskin crown. In their 11 games, the scarlet and black amassed a total of 277 points to 59 games for the opposition.

The only setback received by the local eleven was a 20-7 contest dropped to the Pasadena Bulldogs early in the season in a non-conference tilt in the Rose bowl. Following is a brief resume of each game:

DONS 20; LaVERNE 0

Santa Ana opened its '41 season with an easy victory over a small bunch of invading Loyola frosh players. The frosh were unable to cope with a Don ground and air offense.

DONS 25; SANTA MONICA 6
Although they were still missing their blocking assignments and erratic in their tackling, the Cookmen managed to down the Corsairs. There was still no indication of the strength of the locals.

DONS 7; PASADENA 20

Facing a team that played heads-up football and capitalized on the breaks, the scarlet and black dropped its first game in 15 starts. Psychologically speaking, this was a welcomed defeat, for now the Dons knew that not every team was scared by the prestige gained in 1940, when the locals won the national championship.

DONS 53; SACRAMENTO A.C. 0
Bouncing back from its Rose bowl defeat, the Cookmen journeyed north to completely overwhelm the clubsters. This was the first hint of the power that the Dons could generate.

DONS 26; SAN BERNARDINO 7
Led by Earle "Pruney" Parsons, who scored three touchdowns in seven minutes, the scarlet and black downed the Indians for its first conference win of the season.

DONS 27; LOYOLA 7

Caught in the path of the Cookmen's victory march, the frosh were rolled under by a devastating pass and ground attack. A strong Don line held in check all Loyola offensive threats.

DONS 35; CHAFFEY 6
Scoring almost at will, the scarlet and black gridsters left the Ontario field with their second conference victory tucked under their arms. Quarterbacks Joe Margucci and Bill Gulley and passed the Panthers into the ground.

DONS 19; RIVERSIDE 13

Victors over the highly touted Fullerton Hornets, the Riverside Bengals came into the Municipal bowl determined to overthrow the conference leaders. Fighting one of its toughest games in the '41 season, the locals defeated the Bengals in the last few minutes of play when Gulley fired a perfect strike for a touchdown.

DONS 20; MARCH FIELD 0

After Pomona was forced to forfeit its game with Santa Ana, the Cookmen invited the fliers for a nocturnal tilt and displayed its poor hospitality by trouncing the airmen.

DONS 6; FULLERTON 0

With the '41 conference crown at stake, the Dons and Hornets met in the local bowl for their annual grid "titanic." In a game that was featured by brilliant runs and pass plays, the locals managed to down the fighting Hornets before a capacity crowd of 15,000 fans. Margucci played one of the best games of his career and was easily the best back on the field.

DONS 39; SAN MATEO 0

Ring down the '41 football curtain, the Dons outplayed, outfought, and outscored the Northern California jaysee champions, the San Mateo Bulldogs. Meeting in the Bulldogs the toughest line they had faced all season, the Dons took to the air and completely demoralized the northern boys.

Margucci Nominated Best Don Of Year

Grid Co-captain Joe Margucci was today accorded the honor of "Don of the Year" on the '41 Don squad when Manager Carl Stein released final tabulation figures in Vandermast's second contest.

Margucci edged out center LeRoy Littlejohn, who has been rated as the best pivot man in the Eastern conference. Third place winner was Bill Gulley, sensational freshman quarterback who understudied Margucci throughout the past season. It was Gulley who heaved the winning touchdown pass in the Fullerton tussle.

Allen Titensor, '36 is in the Air Corps.

Art Heinisch '39 has been inducted into the army at Moffet Field.

Gene Hamaker '40 entered the Air Corps at Kelly Field.

Bus McKnight, '41 is at the University of San Francisco where he played first string string center for Jeff Cravath's squad.

Rusty Roquet '37 is employed by a local grocery firm.

Miles Norton '33 has entered the field of geology.

Questions For Alumni

You, Mr. Alumnus, are the sole qualified judge.

The place of junior colleges in the educational set up has long been debated. An issue concerning centralization of instruction in an institution such as this has never been settled.

Is there enough stress on terminal education in two year institutions? Only a very few jaysee graduates go on to college. Are we equipping the majority sufficiently enough so that they are able to tackle this task called "making a living?"

Is there enough stress on preparatory education? The hundreds of students who go on to institutions of higher learning must be equipped to meet the greatly intensified and more impersonal method of instruction at the university. Are we meeting that demand?

Can a single institution undertake the dual task and manage it efficiently?

Everyone of those questions is vital. Upon the answer will hinge the fate of a comparatively new type of institution that has become so popular in recent years—the junior college.

Your experience has taught you the answer, Mr. Alumnus. Can you tell us?

Outfits For Yell Leaders

The Associated Students seem to be overlooking something that merits not only congratulation, but a more material reward.

We are referring to jaysee's tumbling yell leaders. Willie Mattinson and Jimmie Farren took over the job of pepping up the college rooting section this year and decided to do the task right.

In less than two months they taught themselves a series of tumbling routines and acrobatic stunts with which to entertain Don rooters. They went through frequent and vigorous workouts to prepare for each game. They did what grumbling rooters have been crying for every year.

We suggest that the Associated Students appropriate an honorary sweater symbol for each of the leaders. We suggest that the leaders be furnished with uniforms—instead of being required to buy their own, as has been the policy in the past.

It is seldom that we receive more than we are willing to give. Now let's show jaysee's yell leaders that we are willing to give at least as much as we have received.

Patriotism Still Here

Preceding the Thanksgiving day classic with Fullerton the bands of both colleges put on several drills which ended with the national anthem being played by both groups.

When the first strains of the music reached the stands, approximately 15,000 people stood up. What had been a noisy holiday crowd became so silent that a pin drop could have been heard. One or two tardily removed their hats after being told to do so by the person next to them. Then the bands finished, the football teams came on the field, and the grid fans resumed their former gaiety.

While the national anthem was being played it is likely that the majority of people reflected just how much "The Star Spangled Banner" meant to them. The omni-present silence testified to the intense patriotism that had gripped the crowd.

When we consider that Hitler's legions are marching across the plains of Europe and the Moscow communists are battling knee deep in mud of war, it is reassuring to witness 15,000 Americans honoring their country.

Although at times the patriotism of the United States is lulled to sleep and the freedom of our democracy is taken for granted, there is still the intense feeling of national pride in Americans that first showed itself in those Minute Men of 166 years ago.—B.R.

Forecast for Mexico: Chili Today, Hot Tamale Students Run Don Weather Station

If on some hot day you should be in doubt about the temperature or humidity, stop in at the board of education building, climb to the roof, and consult the two jaysee weather men, Richard Eggleston and Ryland Johnson.

Climbing to the roof top bureau daily at 4 o'clock, Sophomore Eggleston and Freshman Johnson take readings on thermometers and recording machines for their daily report. Volunteering at the first of the semester, both students consider the work as a hobby. They are both majoring in science.

Valued at more than $600, the local weather bureau has been in operation for 14 years since its inception by Engineering Instructor H. O. Russell in 1927.

WEATHER BUREAUS RARE
Meteorological stations like jaysee's are rare, probably due to their cost, Instructor Russell stated. One instrument, the recording barometer, is alone worth $60. One of four such bureaus in the county, the local station is probably one of the most complete in Southern California.

Some universities own such stations and probably a few other junior colleges have started weather recordings due to the large interest in aviation at the present time, Mr. Russell stated.

REPORTS USED BY PAPER
In the past the local reports have been used by the Los Angeles Times in their Southern California weather predictions.

Readings taken by the duo include pressure, temperature, humidity, and velocity and direction of the wind. Although the students could not forecast weather on a large scale without similar readings from other weather stations, they are able to tell in advance of frost, fog, and minimum and maximum temperatures.

Following Dodgers Is Student Hobby

John Montanus, an 18-year-old freshman from Brooklyn, lays claim to the title of the most rabid Brooklyn Dodger fan on the campus. To back his claim he proudly displays a collection of over 5500 clippings about the Bums.

Besides these clippings, representing over four years work, John possesses an autographed individual picture of every Dodger to swing a bat for Brooklyn since the 1937 season. In addition, he can show you several autographed baseballs, and three bats, given him by the National league champions.

FIVE STUFFED SCRAPBOOKS
Five over-stuffed scrap books are his chief claim to the title, however, for they represent a complete file of all Brooklyn publicity published in New York papers since 1937. One book contains nothing but the daily box scores over the four year period.

In his contacts with the club, Montanus has personally met many of the players, and has a growing acquaintanceship with manager Leo Durocher. Best picture in his collection is a team shot autographed by every member of the 1941 championship club. Most cherished article in the collection is a cracked bat with "Peewee" Reece's name scrawled across it.

FIRST DODGER GAME
It all started during the spring of 1937, when Montanus saw his first Dodger game. Since then he has been in the Bronx cheering section over 100 times.

Montanus is a journalism major, and expects to end up writing sports for a metropolitan daily. He lists NYU as his favorite college and plans to transfer there at the end of the year.

TODAY'S EL DON

This issue of El Don is the annual Alumni number. The whereabouts and positions of several hundred former students are printed where information was available.

Over a thousand copies are being mailed to jaysee graduates, some to China and to Europe. El Don will also be sent to South America and several papers go to Alaska.

If the pages of all the copies were laid end-to-end they would extend over 15,000 feet, or about three miles.

Hammond Former Journalist CITY DAILY REPORTER

Completing 26 years as the first head of junior college upon his announced retirement next June, Director D. K. Hammond will have been in the Santa Ana education system for 30 years besides being a university foreign language instructor and working as a reporter for the Los Angeles Examiner.

Finishing his junior year at Dartmouth where he majored in journalism and worked on the college paper, Mr. Hammond came to California with his brother during the days of the San Francisco earthquake. At that time the Examiner was a spindling newcomer among Los Angeles papers.

Beginning by writing an information column and reading exchange papers for the editor, Mr. Hammond was soon promoted to reporting political news. "Reporters received a salary of $25 a week in gold," he revealed.

Returning to Dartmouth four years later, the jaysee director did post-graduate work. Since then Mr. Hammond has studied at University of Southern California and in Paris, France.

Commenting on his journalism work Mr. Hammond stated that there is no better way to practical education than to work on a newspaper. "I believe that those three years on the Examiner were the most valuable years of my life. I got a practical view of city politics and government such as I could have never obtained elsewhere," he stated.

Works as Ambulance Driver STUDENT FIRST AIDER

First aid work to Bill Friend, 19-year-old sophomore pre-medical student, has meant quite a bit. It has been a job, and practical experience in his chosen profession. It has also given him the presidency of an emergency first aid unit.

Friend has been interested in first aid work for over eight years. He received his first basic training while a scout through the Red Cross. Two years ago he accepted a position, first as an attendant, and then as a driver for a local ambulance service.

At present he is president of the First Aid Division of the Orange County Emergency unit. This unit, boasting over $2000 in equipment, was the first of its kind to be established in the United States.

During emergencies, the group works directly with the sheriff's office. It was instrumental in flood relief several years ago and boasts its own ambulance.

Coaches Vacation Together VISIT WEST IN TRAILER

Traveling in their trailers, Coach John Ward and Bill Cook have journeyed more than 20,000 miles all over the West.

Riding north as far up as the Camber river in Canada and south to Mexico, the duo have vacationed together since 1937 when Coach Ward first got his trailer.

Most of the time is spent in bumming around the West, fishing, and hunting in season, Coach Cook disclosed. The biggest fish the coaches have ever landed on their fishing trips was a 225 pound Mexican white sea bass.

States included in their trailer travels are Montana, Utah, Mexico, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, and Canada. Coach Cook started his travels six years ago.

During deer season, the pair usually travel to northern California where they spend several weeks hunting. The only year they have not traveled together was in 1939 when Coach Ward went to Texas for the summer.

Averaging about 5000 miles a summer, Coach Cook declares there have been plenty of times when the trailer has broken down or got stuck. The first year Coach Ward vacationed in his trailer it lost a wheel during a trip through Nevada.
